

Association of University Centers On Disabilities

The Road Map to be an Effective Leader

Liz Weintraub, Senior Advocacy Specialist | Public Policy

Knowing What You Want

- This is the first stop on the road towards leadership
- Might be messy at first
- Might be curvy

Knowing How You Can Get It

- Figuring out how to advocate

Knowing the Difference Between the “Right” and the “Wrong” Ways of Advocating

- Do you yell?
- Do you have a discussion?

Knowing Who to Advocate to

- Family
- Friends
- Work
- Country

You Can Always Ask for Help or Support

- Family
- Friends
- Interdependent

You Can Always Change Your Mind

- We have the right to change our mind

Don't Beat Yourself Up if You Find That Advocating is Hard at First

- You are a great advocate
- Mentors are here to help and encourage you

Take the Time to Listen... Leaders can also Learn

There are many roads you can take to enjoy leadership!

Association of University Centers On Disabilities